Breedon is working with renowned horticulturalists to create gardens that showcase accessibility, biodiversity and flood mitigation

Breedon Group plc has donated more than 15 tonnes of material to four gardens at this month's RHS Flower Show at Sandringham House, supporting designs focused on accessibility, biodiversity and wildlife habitats.

The essential materials provider is supplying its premium Breedon Golden Amber self-binding gravel – the only material of its kind to hold a Royal Warrant – alongside Type 1 MOT aggregate for use as a sub-base.

Breedon's Golden Amber Gravel will help bring the four distinctive gardens to life throughout the five-day show:

- Mindful Meadowlands - designed by Constructing Minds with Nature CIC
- RNIB Talking Books Garden - designed by Paul Hervey-Brookes
- The RHS Pollywoggle Garden - designed by Joe and Laura Carey
- Crafted by Nature - designed by Laura Strand and Sam Stark-Kemp

The gardens have already received recognition from RHS judges, with the RNIB Talking Books Garden awarded a gold medal in the Show Garden category and Mindful Meadowlands achieving a bronze in the Grow Forward Garden category.

The gardens span a range of themes, from celebrating 90 years of RNIB's Talking Books service and educating communities on flood mitigation to promoting wetland habitats that support amphibian life.

Laura McGlynn - Commercial Manager, Breedon Special Aggregates said: "We're so proud to see our material playing such a pivotal role in four gardens at this year's show at Sandringham House.

"Each of the gardens tells a unique story, and we're delighted to support the designers bringing them to life. It's been great to see our Breedon Golden Amber Gravel used in different ways across the spaces, with its natural appearance and accessibility making it well suited for a range of designs."

Breedon has a long history of supplying decorative products to sites across the UK, from stately homes, castles and royal residences to public spaces, housing developments, private residences and gardens. In recent years, Breedon has also supplied materials for award-winning RHS show gardens, including at RHS Chelsea, Hampton Court, Wentworth Woodhouse and Chatsworth.

The gardens will be open to the public at RHS Sandringham from Wednesday 22 to Sunday 26 July.
