Breedon appoints Group Head of Health, Safety & Environment

Breedon Group plc, a leading construction materials group in Great Britain and Ireland, has appointed Nigel Clamp as Group Head of Health, Safety and Environment.

Nigel joins Breedon from Heidelberg Cement, where he was Health & Safety Director for the company's Africa & Eastern Mediterranean Basin Region. He was previously Senior Safety, Health & Environment (SHE) Manager at Hanson PLC, prior to which he served as Head of Safety at National Express Limited. He spent the earlier part of his career in a number of quarry management and SHE roles with Lafarge.

Nigel will assume overall responsibility for the health and safety of Breedon's 3,000-strong workforce, as well as overseeing the Group's environmental and sustainability activities.

Commenting on Nigel's appointment Pat Ward, Breedon's Group Chief Executive, said: "We are delighted to have been able to attract such a highly experienced health and safety professional to Breedon. Nigel has spent nearly 20 years in senior SHE positions in our industry and we look forward to him helping us take our safety engagement to new levels, whilst bringing a valuable fresh perspective to our environmental and sustainability agenda."
